“Work is good for children;
they are happier to be usefully employed a large share of the time;
their innocent amusements are enjoyed with a keener zest
after the successful completion of their tasks.
Labor strengthens both the muscles and the mind.
Mothers may make precious little helpers of their children;
and, while teaching them to be useful,
they may themselves gain knowledge of human nature and how to deal with these fresh, young beings and keep their hearts warm and youthful by contact with the little ones.
And as their children look to them in confidence and love, so may they look to the dear Saviour for help and guidance.
Children that are properly trained,
as they advance in years,
learn to love that labor which makes the burdens of their friends lighter.”
